DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of a microbial attack in the reply filed on 12/03/2007 is acknowledged.

Status of Application

2. Claims 1-16 are pending in this application.
3. Claims 4, 5, 11-14 are withdrawn as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Information Disclosure Statement

4. The listing of references in the Search Report is not considered to be an information disclosure statement (IDS) complying with 37 CFR 1.98. 37 CFR 1.98(a)(2) requires a legible copy of: (1) each foreign patent; (2) each publication or that portion which caused it to be listed; (3) for each cited pending U.S. application, the application specification including claims, and any drawing of the application, or that portion of the application which caused it to be listed including any claims directed to that portion, unless the cited pending U.S. application is stored in the Image File Wrapper (IFW) system; and (4) all other information, or that portion which caused it to be listed. In addition, each IDS must include a list of all patents, publications, applications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office (see 37 CFR 1.98(a)(1) and (b)), and MPEP § 609.04(a), subsection I. states, "the list ... must be submitted on a separate paper." Therefore, the references cited in the Search Report have not been considered. Applicant is advised that the date of submission of any item of information or any missing element(s) will be the date of submission for purposes of determining compliance with the requirements based on the time of filing the IDS, including all "statement" requirements of 37 CFR 1.97(e). See MPEP § 609.05(a).

5. The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609.04(a) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Specification

6. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 1-3, 6-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Coleman et al.

Coleman et al. discloses the biodegradation of nitramines such as RDX. The Rhodococcus sp. strain DN22 attacks an N-NO₂ group, causing an oxidative denitration

Art Unit: 1793

(p. 1165, col. 2). This denitration can occur at more than one N-NO₂ group. Given that nitrite can be used as a sole source of N by strain DN22, denitration will occur until DN22 has sufficient growth substrate (Abstract).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

11. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

12. Claims 10, 15, 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Van Aken et al. in view of Burlage et al.

Van Aken et al. discloses the anaerobic biodegradation of RDX (p. 60). A possible degradation path proposes formaminomethylnitramine $\text{NO}_2\text{NHCH}_2\text{NHCHO}$ as an intermediate decomposition product (p. 61).

Van Aken et al. differs from the instant invention in that it does not disclose the use of a microbe such as Clostridium, Rhodococcus, or Aspergillus in anaerobic conditions.

Burlage et al. discloses a method for the detection of explosives such as RDX using a biosensor. The biosensor can be adapted for use in anaerobic environments (col. 12 lines 50-51). In anaerobic conditions, an anaerobe such as Clostridium is the preferred host strain (col. 12 lines 51-53).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify Van Aken et al. in view of Burlage et al. to use an anaerobic microbe such as Clostridium to degrade biologically RDX.

One would have been motivated to make such a modification in order to avoid the decomposition of RDX into its nitroso products, as they are believed to be carcinogenic.

Conclusion

13. Claims 1-3, 6-10, 15, 16 have been rejected.

14. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Nicklin et al., Bender et al., Ouazzani et al., Spain et al., Coleman
